A. W. Piller and Stan Watson stand at the site of the new Ford facilities.

Watson Ford Company Will Move To New N.W. Ave. 1 Address

Business is taking a new step forward in Belle Glade with the moving of Watson Ford to an N. W. Ave. 1 address. The Ford agency, which has been studying the change for about two and a half years, has selected three acres with over 320 feet of frontage on the four-lane Ave. 1.

The new location is situated faster and not interfere with service customer, he said. The parts inventory, which is now the largest in the Glades, Piller said, will be expanded, as well as the Ford truck line, which will cover the entire field, from the lightest to the heaviest.

The Ave. 1 location will triple the present space of less than an acre in the present site on S. E. Ave. E. Paul Henderson will draw the plans for the new facilities, Watson said.

"In 1954," he said, "I made a similar move in Connecticut moving three miles out of town. Everyone thought I was out of my mind. With the way that is has grown, I just wish, I could land here today."

The move to Ave. 1 marks the first such move of a retail business to that section of town.

This section of Belle Glade was designated in a General Land Use Plan of the city as a probable expansion area for business-industrial use. The comprehensive plan drawn up in 1964 sees continued agricultural growth east on Air Port Road (the eastward extension of Ave. 1) and improved parking will mean parts customers can move in and

Canal Hazard Committee Backed By County Commission Resolution

RESOLUTION

The County Commission's endorsement of the efforts of the Canal Safety Hazards Committee "gives us a gun to carry," said Chairman George L. Williams.

"If we can't shoot it, well . . . Any road project must first have the approval of the County Commission or it doesn't get off the ground, he said.

"We have the approval and I think this will give us more solidarity when dealing with state road people."

"Only God knows how far we are going to go, but He knows we need to go all the way."

The Committee has been gathering right of way donations along a proposed four-lane State Road 80 route that would come from Okeechobee Road in West Palm Beach to the Glades Sub-Courthouse north of Belle Glade.

This committee spearheaded the move to erect guard rails along the road's present route along the canals.

Teachers Hold Meet Sunday

One school faculty met with about 12 non-teachers on Sunday in Palm Beach County.

The Belle Glade High School faculty met with the school faculty turnout, at the Civic Center Sunday.

The meeting of the High School history department, Principal Pelton Morris and Band Director Fred Stevens told the audience about education problems while praising Palm Beach County and avoiding mention of Governor Kirk.

Belle Glade High School is doing a good job, Browning told the group. "We're second in the county in percentage of graduates attending college."

In 1966, 66 of 105 graduates attended college. In 1967, 75 of 108 graduates went to college. At Palm Beach Junior college there are 27 Belle Glade High School graduates on scholarship and none have received a failing mark, he said.

Freshmen at the University of Florida from BGHS have maintained a 1.6 grade average while at Florida State University. The University of Florida's average is 4 below theirs. BGHS is 2.51, he said.

This record has been maintained despite a 10% increase in students in the County from 1955 to 1965. In Glades schools students have increased 290 since last year and if this trend continues school population will increase 50% by 1975, he said.

In an attempt to explain highly complicated school financing, Principal Pelton Morris gave an outline of some problems faced.

He pointed out the Minimum Foundation through which the state provides educational funds. This program, Morris said, bases the number of teachers salaries supplemented by the state on last year's enrollment figures. In a fast growing county like Palm Beach, he said, there are always more teachers needed. The County, through property taxes, supplements this state support.

However, he said, county support throughout the state is not equitable. While in Palm Beach County 10.69 mills was levied, less than one tenth of that was levied in other counties.

Starting salaries, he said, are not competitive with neighboring states. He pointed to two Belle Glade High School graduates who were teaching out of state and receiving better salaries.

Stevens presented a list of problems the teachers must contend with. They were:

Robert G. Peters To Take Over Municipal Golf Country Club

The City Friday negotiated the last business session of the Commission headed by Bill J. Bailey.

Robert G. Peters will take over operation of the County Club and Golf Course as soon as legalities are completed, the Commission ordered. The transfer is expected to be this week-end.

C. R. Cremus, to whom the facilities were leased on September 13, was to take over operation October 1. He, however, notified the city that he would not be able to assume the lease.

The Commission met in special session Friday to negotiate a new lease with Peters.

In giving approval to the new lease, several changes were made among them to dropping of the $5,000 surety bond. Signing the new lease will be one of the first duties of George Lorenzo, Connell who was elected Mayor at a re-organization meeting following

Port Mayaca Cemetery

The Port Mayaca Cemetery has only 25 lots left and all available land will be used within the next few months, said C. R. Wehring.

Wehring, of the Pahokee Funeral Home is a member of the governing board of the Cemetery, which is run under a charter through the Glades municipalities, Pahokee, Belle Glade and South Bay.

Wehring appeared before the Pahokee City Council which granted approval for the expansion plan the executive board has endorsed.

George L. Williams of the Belle Glade funeral home, also a member of the Cemetery Board, will bring the plan before the Belle Glade Commission for approval.

The expansion will be carried out in conjunction with the only land owners abutting the cemetery's facilitating expansion, Port Mayaca Groves, Inc.

They will set aside a 20 acre area for expansion and sell the land, cemetery lot by cemetery lot.

The new lots will sell for $100 with $50 going to the Groves and $50 to the administration and upkeep of the cemetery.

The price is high, Wehring said, but the groves will pay for the land development, erecting an impressive entrance and putting the cemetery on a new basis, he said.

"We have no other choice," he said.

The cemetery board is in agreement about the need for the purchase, he said.

New Meal System At Hospital

Has the fact that you wake up at 5:00 A.M. in a hospital and can't get a cup of coffee until eight o'clock ever bothered you?

This is no longer the case at Glades General Hospital. After three months of careful study and planning by Mrs. Virginia Kornyia, A.D.A., hospital dietitian, the hospital has just completed a month-long pilot study on the five meal a day plan. "Instead of the conventional three meals a day which have been served in the past (breakfast at 7:30, lunch at 11:30, and dinner at 4:45) not always taking the feelings of the patient into consideration, we have gone to five meals a day," explained Mrs. Kornyia. "Continental breakfast consisting of juice, roll or toast, butter, jelly and coffee at 6:30; brunch at 9:30 in which a selective menu is used with several selections being offered; 1:30 is lunch time; dinner is at 6 PM, again utilizing a selective menu, and around 9 PM a snack," Mrs. Kornyia continued.

"We have found that under this plan the patients no longer feel they cannot go to sleep at night because they are hungry, it reduces the amount of food being brought in for patients by visitors sometimes against the physician's orders, patients are much happier with an 'early bird coffee' and breakfast later, and we find that we are able to pick up most of the

NEWSPAPERS GET THE NEWS

Freedom of the Press Belongs to the People

By Theodore A. Serrill
Executive Vice President, National Newspaper Association

Who ever told that nosy editor he had a right to pry into what happened at our council meeting? What gave that reporter any idea that he could write about the school directors the way he did?

The answer is that there is no law, rule, regulation or order that specifically requires a newspaper reporter to cover city council, school board or court sessions. The Constitution says "Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom of the press." One can search out all of the laws of the Federal Government, right down to the Freedom of Information bill passed by the 89th Congress, and find nothing further about "the press."

The same can be said of state law. Most state constitutions recognize freedom of the press to publish news, but none particularize these rights, or set down any press responsibilities.

The newspaper is not required to report the city council meeting or send someone to the school directors' sessions. The reporter could stay home. Nor do laws specify that "the press" be accorded any special treatment before any public body. "Open meeting laws" never mention newspapers, reporters, or news media. They simply affirm the right of the public at large to attend and observe meetings of governing assemblies.

Mrs. Smith, then, can "cover" the city council. For her club, her neighborhood, or just for herself. The principle of open government meetings was established for the people — the resident, the voter, the taxpayer, all the governed — not solely for the press or its representatives.

Then why is it that "the right to know" and "freedom of information" always seem to be linked with the press?

In the very early days of American settlement all of the people of a local community would gather in the town meeting and determine the affairs of the community. Almost all of the people, and those who didn't, soon learned from the informed majority.

But villages soon grew into cities, and the "pure democracy" of the town meeting gave way to representative democracy. Government was growing more remote from the people. It was also growing more complicated. Yet the citizen, as a voter, had the same responsibility to keep himself informed.

It followed naturally that the Nation's fledgling press should fill the role of reporter and commentator on public affairs. No one passed a law requiring it. The Founding Fathers simply had faith that a private press, given the guarantee of freedom to do so, would accept the responsibility. And of course it has. For nearly two centuries newspapers have attended meetings of governing bodies, reporting and interpreting in behalf of the public.

The reporter attends city council meetings as a member of the public. He has a right to be present only if the public retains that right. The editor comments on the council's decisions — or lack of decisions — as an ordinary citizen. While he is aided in his function by the printing press at his disposal, it gives him no special rights. He can comment only so long as the public has a privilege of commenting.

The "right to know" and "freedom of information" are concepts with which the newsman works every day. The same professional tradition which sends him to the city council meeting compels him to resist inroads on his press rights. For he knows, and the public should always realize too, that in all that he does, the newspaperman acts as a citizen, in behalf of his fellow citizens.

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

Ian Smith And The State Department

In throwing up a barrier of red tape against Prime Minister Ian Smith of Rhodesia, who has been invited to speak at the University of Virginia, the U. S. State Department has given evidence concerning the Johnson administration's lack of Mr. Smith's effectiveness.

The invitation to Prime Minister Ian Smith came from the highly respected University of Virginia Law Forum. Mr. Smith accepted, with the understanding that he would face critical as well as sympathetic questions. He was not afraid of close questioning. The State Department apparently is a bit of a coward. It reached out to its legal grab-bag and came up with the statement that Mr. Smith could not be admitted without a valid legal travel document from the British Foreign Office.

Obviously, Britain's socialist government hasn't the slightest intention of facilitating a trip to America by Mr. Ian Smith, more than an earlier British government would have given Patrick Henry a check to state the American colonists' case elsewhere in the world.

The hard-line attitude in Britain is still insisting that the Rhodesian government must be brought down to give a platform to the world, over British and U. N. objections.

Ironically, if Mr. Ian Smith were a communist or a leader of black revolutionary state in Africa he so doubt would easily get permission to enter the U. S. and, most probably, would be given an all-expenses-paid tour of the country. Nowadays, one hears much about international understanding and the right to dissent, but the State Department doesn't want Americans to understand too much about Rhodesian realities. It is opposed to giving a platform to anyone who will dissent from the orthodox liberal view of contemporary Africa.

It is tragic that the American people are not given a better view of what is going on in Africa, for their security is involved in developments in and around that continent. Recently, for example, the ABC network put on a lengthy program about Africa, with Gregory Peck as narrator, which distorted the situation in Southern Africa. Using all the tricks of the Ed Murrow school of televised propaganda, the producers of the show showed South Africa in terms of beard old men nodding as they listened to patriotic speeches. In analyzing Portuguese Africa, the camera moved in for a close-up of a strand of beard wire. The overall effort was to convey to viewers a bleak and grim picture of the parts of Africa where European leadership exists. Africa, for instance, Americans have more than $600 million invested with more money paid in all the time. It is one of a small number of countries in the world where there is no danger of a communist or socialist political takeover or economic nationalizations.

The closing of the Suez Canal, moreover, has made southern Africa immensely more important in the last two months. American seaport cities well understand the coming movement of ocean commerce around the southern tip of Africa. This commerce is all to continue even after Nasser has reopened the Suez Canal, for the superpowers have good relations with South Africa and its progressive neighbors.

Ian Smith could spell out some of these truths at the University of Virginia, but the State Department will have none of it. It has its ear attuned to the wails of Anglo-American liberals and anti-American black fanatics.

Uncle Dan from Doolie Says:

Dear Mister Editor:
The fellows at the country store Saturday night were giving the women folks a hard time. It all got started when Zeke Grubb got to telling about this big box of bottles his old lady had brought home from the beauty parlor. She claimed she bought the box on special and she aimed to try ever bottle but Zeke reported he looked them over and they were everything from paint-can eyebrows to a bottle of stuff you put on all over at night with a brush that would give a woman a "gold Bahamas" complexion. He told the fellows he hinted to her she could get that same "gold Bahamas" look by spending a few dollars on a bottle of Zeke's hair cream. He said this would run her store-bought fingernails the girl at the beauty shop had sold her on time. Furthermore, she told Zeke, this bottle complexion would look the same winter or summer, rain or shine.

Big Hookum said he wasn't taking nothing away from the ladies, that he liked to look at all of them and he was it was giving so's a feller a hard time these days telling if a woman was homestead or storebought. For instance, he reported, he was reading this piece in the papers about anti-girls was now cutting their hair. He said this they could put on a wig to match ever dress. He said this place claimed this was spreading down to the high school girls. He was of the opinion they was changing their hair color ever time they changed their mind.

Ed Doolittle was agreed with Zeke, said he saw two young girls in town last week that looked for world's best beauty trophies, and a old lady was with them that would have matched real good with a polonaise. She had yeller hair with a white streak up front. He claimed all three of them had on dresses to match their hair and they all had their lips painted a pale blue that made them look like they were frostbit.

Ed was of the opinion it was a long time before the Great Society will try to go a law passed making everybody looking and smelling alike. Right now, said Ed, if you believed them TV commercials it was a piece in time to have had bread that was to be burn the barn down.

Personal, Mister Editor, I didn't say nothing for fear I'd run the session over, but I'm giving to the place with all these backless dresses, where it's hard to tell if a woman is going or coming. It makes me recollect the feller that I always walked backwards so's nobody could sneak up on him from behind.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Letter To The Editor

Who's Qualified?

To the Editor:

If the American people think they have a choice of who spend more time in the presidential seat let them consider the following: The Grand Old Party offers "Reckless Ronald," ham actor and yep at government administration who has not, as yet, proven his ability to govern the state of California. "Look ma, no grease paint!" Do you think this fire eating, he-man, celluloid lover of the late late show has the qualities of a president?

Or maybe you would prefer "Gullible George" an ex-auto maker whose only claim to fame is pulling American Motors chevron out of the fire. He also governs a state, though none too well, and is so politically disoriented that he foolishly admits publicly that the professional politicians have him brainwashed.

But if the two foregoing choices disappoint you, how about "Tricky Dickie," an ex-vice-president who couldn't even succeed at that job and who provoked near riots while in his official capacity as presidential good will ambassador to South America.

This country can get along without a good five cent cigar, but it desperately needs good presidential material. I nominate Alfred E. Neuman of "MAD" magazine.

But if you are in direct opposition to the monumental spending programs protracted by the present administration, consider "Calculating Claude" who spends more time in the capitol of other states and the world than he does in Tallahassee. He promises to cream the criminals, raise teachers salaries, build better roads and put state government in fine fettle without increasing taxes. He stands publicly for austerity, but his personal credo is "live baby, live."

The democrats, symbolized by a jackass, thus far have come up with a big fat crock the incumbent, "Lagging Lyndon."

Last, and I hope least, are the independents, "Wilful Wallace" who has no bones about ruling his little empire from behind his wife's apron and recently made the scene by telling the nation's politicians that they should be in the drivers seat. Seems to me I recall another fellow who had the same idea about 35 years ago. His policemen became known as Brown Shirts, G-men and SS.

To paraphrase the opening line of a famous New York Times editorial: Mr. and Mrs. North America, we are ALL AT SEA, let go to the polls! Give your choice of liberals, conservatives, right wingers, left wingers, blue noses, reds, pinks and greenhorns.

This country can get along without a good five cent cigar, but it desperately needs good presidential material. I nominate Alfred E. Neuman of "MAD" magazine.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Changes in economic and social conditions often convert luxuries into necessities. Occasionally the opposite is true.

Old-time necessities become luxuries in affluence and prosperity. The horse is a good example. Logically, he should have disappeared with the automobile and tractor. But the horse is flourishing in a new social situation. He has become a companionable creature.

Work tools which once had meaning to the craftsman as an aid in earning a living are now in demand by men of all kinds who use them for leisure time hobbies.

The recent resurgence of the sewing machine is a special example. The style-conscious young lady of today may regard a personal sewing machine as a more classy gift than a new television set. Her grandmother looked upon the sewing machine as a necessity as fundamental as the cooking stove. Rather than considering sewing rudimentary, the modern girl regards it as a sophisticated skill which can provide her with originals in the latest styles at low cost.

The result is a new boom in the sewing machine business. Retailers in large cities have been quick to recognize the new demand. However, in most smaller cities sewing machines are not available in variety, if at all. Meanwhile the large city merchants are reaping with a heavy hand.

MUSICALLY YOURS...

With the general decline of morality and culture in the U. S. it was refreshing to note a few years back the arrival of two musicians in the nation capital.

These two musicians immediately set about to form groups and this was the advent of LBJ and the Birds and McNamara's Band. While looking around for something to record LBJ found an old French tune called "Vietnam Two-Step."

Although it had been a flop in France, LBJ called his new McNamara and they decided to rewrite the music.

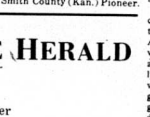

They worked very hard and came up with something called the Vietnamese Shuffle which was written for a small brass band. Some of the brass thought the tune was too slow, but their leaders had their way and the band was sent to Vietnam to teach the people how to play their own tune.

It was soon evident that the band was too small and that the people were unable to understand the lyrics which were rewritten at least once a month. LBJ and McNamara began to worry so they kept increasing the size of the band. Many of the musicians complained that unless they were allowed to play the tune their way the song might never end.

Popularity polls began to indicate that something had to be done or LBJ might lose his job as head musician. He wrote some other tunes to try and get the public's mind off of the Vietnamese Shuffle, such things as The War on Poverty Blues and the Great Society Rag.

His plan didn't work so he turned to another group, the UN Symphony, to come up with a tune that would satisfy everyone. The leader of the UN group suggested that LBJ stop the music, but LBJ said that other musicians might move in if he brought his brass band back to the United States.

Soon it will be election time in Muscivore and it looks like we might get a new head musician, someone who can write peaceful music and bring our big brass band home where it belongs.

Hippies Looking For Answer?

By Lewis Lewellyn
Why is a hippie?
What motivates young men to go bearded and barefoot, struggling off their responsibility?

What causes teenage rebels to "both sexes to drop out of society" life, experimenting with marijuana, LSD, illicit sex, and seemingly every ill just as long as it is in conflict with authority and with the established order?

SEIZING ESCAPE? Have the problems of life overwhelmed these young people? Are they simply seeking an escape from reality?

Or are they honestly searching in an unorthodox way, for the answer to the basic meaning of life?

A high school senior expressed his deep distress and puzzlement in these words: "Day after day and night after night I go around searching and trying to find the answer... Life seems like some big joke. It seems like everyone is trying to you, trying to pull a trick on you, and standing back in the shadows laughing at you. It seems too, looking to realize that here we are, creatures that can't ask to be born, but are put here on a seemingly forsaken planet... Why should we be responsible for things we do when we didn't ask to be born? WHY is the big 'why' in my life?"

On Sunday, Oct. 8, Rev. Sindle expected to speak at the Joppa, Maryland Church of God, where he pastored 15 years ago. The evening service will be at the Oxford Penna Church of God, where a weeks evangelistic campaign is planned.

ONLY EMPINITY

Another student, a girl, put her thoughts into verse: "Where am I? In emptiness. All alone now. Sitting in the darkness... The earth is turning. As I am turning. Forever in a circle Of emptiness."

HATED LIFE Solomon, whose reputation for wisdom attracted people from many foreign lands to consult with him, searched for the meaning of life, sparing no effort or expense. This is his report:

"Whatever my eyes desired, I kept not from them. I withheld not my heart from any word... I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought... and, behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit... Therefore I hated life. For all is vanity."

The emptiness of life which dismayed Solomon is still bothering people today. Is there an answer? What is it?

I'd like to hear from your readers on this subject. Has emptiness of life been a problem to you? Have you found an answer to this emptiness?

In a later column I plan to print excerpts from some of the letters received in response to this question. You may address your letter to Lewis Lewellyn, Box 100, Sebring, Florida, or you may write me in care of this newspaper. A copy of the 32-page booklet "Here's How" will be sent to each one who writes, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

We've hardly known a time when there wasn't war, or rumor of war. And with the difficult ideological problems of today's world, the issue of war versus peace is more complicated than ever.

One thing is certain. God is impartial in his caring for peace. But how do you search for peace—in yourself, and in the world? You may find some surprising approaches developing in your church or synagogue. And with your help, your place of worship can, after all, become an important voice in establishing our country's moral position in matters that profoundly affect every one of us. You're only one person, it's true. But you don't have to be alone in your beliefs. And it's beliefs like yours that can change the world.

Ram

Three Leaders Groomed By Rams

By Rampage Staffer
Jim Baker

On the field the quarterback is the boss, and Belle Glade and three of them.

The Rams top three, Andy Ballard, Jorge Rodriguez and Tom Altman, will be trying to move the team to the Championship in Western division of the Suncoast Conference.

Andy Ballard has started for the Golden Rams in the first two games this season. Head Coach, Bill Burke said, "I'm going with Andy because of his past experience. He has a better overall knowledge of the game and better execution of the plays."

Ballard, a 155 pound senior, is playing his second year of varsity ball.

Among his other activities, Andy is the student council president and a member of the Interact Club. He plans to attend Indian River Junior College.

"Jorge Rodriguez," Burke said, "is valuable to us now on defense and we don't like our quarterback to go both ways. We'll continue to work him at quarterback in practice."

Jorge, number 14, is a 175 pound, five foot, ten inch senior.

He has been on the varsity for two years. He is now kicking extra points and playing defensive corner for the Rams. In baseball, Jorge has gained the all-conference and all-area titles for the past two years. He is also active in Interact Club.

The third man, a junior, is Tom Altman. "Tommy is probably the quickest of the three," coach Burke said. "He thrown a good running pass and is the better runner."

Altman was moved from the junior varsity team at the end of last year and is seeing his first full year of varsity action. He weighs 160 pounds and stands five foot six inches. Altman is also active in golf and has been on the team for two years. He is also a member of Interact Club.

Coach Burke said that ever since he has been here he has tried to have three quarterbacks ready because, "our quarterbacks run the ball more than average and I like to have three ready at all times."

By Carol Betts

A relief from the deep, but dreary movies is on the screen. For those who would like an unpretentious, gag-a-second comedy, Neil Simon's "Barefoot in the Park" is here.

The plot is merely another variation of the well-used boys-girls, boys-girls, boys-girls-girl-back. Simon has turned it into an excellent situation comedy. The curtain rises with the young couple on their honeymoon. Jane Fonda, the girl, is a would-be free spirit while Robert Redford, the boy, is a somewhat stuffy young lawyer.

Their apartment, which she picked out, is a five-flight walk-up in Greenwich Village. It's complete with a leaky skylight, off-rag walls, and a bedroom too small to accommodate the couple.

Also have two new sets of encyclopedias. The World Book Encyclopedia and Our Wonderful World Encyclopedia are 1967 Editions. Their newer pictures and updated information in fields such as science, math and contemporary history will be of great help to us.

Our school has received 575 new paperback books which serve as an amazing naive drink that, after standing it, they couldn't make a fist for three days. Later there followed: the couples first fight, a separation, a drunk husband running barefoot through Washington Square, climbing on the rooftop, and finally, a ledge-hanging reunion.

The plot isn't much, but the gags are hilarious. Jane Fonda and Robert Redford did an excellent job. They seemed to know where the laughs were, and they made the most of them.

Lunch Tops

Next Week

October 8 through 14, will be National School Lunch Week.

Students and faculty members who have not participated in the lunch program are urged to do so during this time.

"The lunches this year are better than they were last year because the new Junior High School has their own staff and facilities," said Mrs. Connell, cafeteria manager.

"We have a larger variety this year and hope the students will take advantage of this week to pick what they would like."

Mayberry Bicycled In Europe

By Dick Hooker

John Neil Mayberry, a new speech teacher at Belle Glade High School, has something to talk about.

He has just returned from a summer in Europe.

Mayberry's interest in traveling led him to a organization called the American Youth Hostels, Inc. The organization was founded in Britain by a man who wanted to give the youth of the world a chance to travel in foreign countries cheaply and to meet people from all around the world.

The organization is many planned tours, but individual members may travel on their own.

Mayberry traveled with a group of nine college and high school students. Their leader was from Oslo, Norway.

The rest of the group was from all parts of the United States.

The group met in New York City. From New York they flew to London, England which was Mayberry's favorite city. He stated that the mini-skirts the girls were very "mini" and that all the young people were, mod clothing, especially the boys.

The other countries they visited were Scotland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, and France.

Mayberry said he especially liked Norway. Its scenic beauty was a total contrast of anything he had ever seen before, he said. Most of the time they bicycled, but on longer trips the trip they traveled by train or boat.

The American Youth Hostels, Inc., is located in New York City and it offers a tremendous opportunity for the youth of the world to discover Europe inexpensively, he said.

"Mr. May," as he is sometimes called, was born and raised in Georgia. There he attended primary and secondary schools and also the University of Georgia.

Southern. Before coming to Belle Glade, he taught at La Grange High School, in La Grange, Georgia. His interests are drama, swimming, and traveling.

French does this most fun back.

ITALIAN (Italian Pro turned to be).

Golden Rams Win 25 To 13 Over Okeechobee Brahmas

By Kathy Morris

Scoring twice as high as the Okeechobee Brahmas, the Rams won 25-13.

The first touchdown was made by the Brahmas in the first quarter when Stanley Hart ran 12 yards. He then ran the extra point.

With the Brahmas now in the lead the Rams pushed down to the six yard line before the end of the first quarter. In the first two minutes of the second quarter Mark Whitmore ran for the Rams' first touchdown. Jorge Rodriguez's kick was blocked leaving the Brahmas ahead 7-6.

On the first play after receiving the kick, Horace Johnson ran 58 yards to score another touchdown for the Brahmas.

Then it was Belle Glade's turn again when Whitmore ran 50 yards for a touchdown just as the half ended to leave the Rams behind 13-12.

Early in the second half Tommy Altman gave Belle Glade the edge needed when he ran six yards for a touchdown.

Then the Rams were put in excellent scoring position when a Brahmas pass was intercepted by Dennis Connell and run to the 10 yard line. Altman ran the touchdown. To top off the score the Rams made the extra point on a pass from Altman to Buddy Wilder. This gave the Rams the final score of 25-13.

Even though the Rams won the game, the players with injuries from the Forest Hill game were missed. Jorge Rodriguez was playing, but only as a kicker. Coach McKinley will miss several game of a cracked collar bone, and the Rams are hoping to have Gerald Wilder's ankle well enough so he can play tomorrow night against John A. Leon and The team got off with few injuries Saturday with only Andy Ballard, Mike Foster, Gary Resmondo, and Larry Williams hurt.

Seniors Take Placement Test

Last week, 160 Belle Glade High School seniors took the statewide college Senior Placement Test.

A student is required to score at least 300 out of a possible 495 points to be admitted to any state supported college or university.

The test is in five different groups: Aptitude, English, History, Natural Science, and Mathematics.

Scoring is computed in Gainesville and scores will be received in late November.

Students Discuss Modern Family Living

By Margaret Cross and Jill Bowen

Everyone has qualities, some desirable and some undesirable. These can lead to lasting friendships, or to enemies.

This was the topic of discussion in Mrs. Hazel Litchfield's Modern Family Living class.

The students talked about traits they liked and disliked in people. Some good qualities were: good manners, friendly, sincere, polite and a good sense of humor. Some bad qualities discussed were: rude, jealous, envious, sarcastic, stubborn, and bad character.

SNOOPY

Snooping around the campus is Snoopy who will inform you on all the happening in and around the campus. What happened to M. B. over the summer? It seems as though she is finally exploring the dating scene with J. W. I see that D. Mc. is having a difficult and depressing time with her boyfriend, C. M. Oh Well! That's life!

Once a "Blue Devil," now a member of the "Bobcat Band," H. C. is really causing a disturbance between a sophisticated junior, S. B., and a split personality senior, R. H. Good luck girls, let me know who gets him (smile).

Look out "Shorty," I see you have found yourself a "tally," so you had better get yourself a pair of elevator shoes, L. T. If you want to continue the scene with B. V.

To my surprise Saturday, I thought for sure P. S. was going to be A. J.'s right arm girl "BUT" a certain senior went stepping with the left and right arm. But who was he with at the dance, G. B.

R. B., L. W., C. R., and L. R., why is it you're all away from the corner of Ave. E and 7th Street.

V. W., why is it you let E. C., slip right out of your arms. Was it because you couldn't and still can't complete with that uptight, out of sight, good looking girl S. V. Was your heart getting weak or what?

I see you're trying to block T. S.'s hustle with B. W. Don't be so mean, your time will come sooner or later.

J. B., I've been watching you lately with M. B. What did M. E. say about your new date when he arrived Tuesday night? Was he mad, or did

Education Important For Young

By Oris Walker, Assistant Principal
There is no doubt in my mind about the importance and value of education for young Americans.

To properly take your place in our adult society, you need to be prepared for job placement, family coordination, and you must be able to get along with people. Education is the only thing that can do these things for your young people.

I would advise all students to be resourceful, ambitious, honest during their high school years. These years are the most valuable part of life and will be treasured in the years ahead.

All subjects in the curriculum are important. If I had to select one subject, I would say English with special emphasis on reading, writing and listening. If you have a good foundation in English, you will not encounter any difficulty in the other courses. Regardless as to your intended vocation or profession, you must be able to communicate with people.

Communications are important in the learning process. My ultimate goal in life is helping young people to reach new heights and to become successful in newly created professions, such as electronics, mathematics and business.

There are many industries today seeking to fill positions in these fields but cannot find trained and qualified personnel. I would advise all students, especially our Junior and Senior students, to explore the possibility of careers in any one of the three professions.

FHA Present Skit Of Women
The members of the FHA (Future Homemakers of America) presented a program Friday.

The 30 minute skit entitled "After the FHA Dinner," was about a group of typical women club executives who have a meeting at one of the Club members home for tea and to gossip.

Sally Cameron played the star role as a very coy and bossy woman executive. Other persons who took part in the skit were Mary Nelson, Shirley Vereen, Ethel S. Henry and Ruth Byrd.

After the skit the club presented pantomime entitled "In the Morning" with Betty Epps portraying the hard hitting husky mother and "Harper and Carolyn Green portraying the disobedient children."

The organization's advisor is Mrs. Inez Mack, an instructor of the homemaking department.

Prosperous Year Seen For LSHS

By Dean of Boys, Mr. Todd
It is needless to say that this should be our most prosperous year in terms of academic achievement. With the new and added facilities, a strengthened curriculum, added courses and a completely qualified staff this year should go down in the annals of LSH history as a most productive year.

To the new students I say, "the road ahead may appear long and rugged but, each day brings you closer to your goal." To my returning students I say, "If you are determined — nothing can hinder you," and to my beloved Seniors I have only this to say, "To gain respect, one must first give respect."

Two New Staff Members Here
In the first edition of the page, the staff failed to recognize two new additions to the faculty. They are Mrs. Linda Thompson and Mr. Antoine Russell.

Mrs. Thompson is a native of Sanford, Florida and a graduate of Florida A and M University with a B. S. degree in English. She has had one year teaching experience. Her objective is to "cultivate the minds of our boys and girls."

Mr. Russell is a graduate of Florida A and M University with a B. S. degree in health, science, physical education and elementary education. He has had nine years teaching experience at East Lake Elementary where he taught Physical Education for four years. When asked what inspired him to become a teacher Mr. Russell replied, "I like to help people."

"I don't believe you should prepare for life, I believe you should live life day in and day out."

Bobcats-Vero Were Scoreless

On Saturday night the Bobcats journeyed to Vero Beach to play the Gifford Tigers. The game was started with a long kick from Bobby Jackson of Lake Shore to the Gifford Tigers. The Tigers fumbled the ball on the kick and tried to return for a touchdown, but with speedsters like Alton Jones and Willie McKelvin to stop them could, they didn't get anywhere.

Both teams held strongly through the 1st, 2nd and 3rd quarters.

Late in the fourth quarter, the Gifford Tigers threw a pass for long yardage, it seemed.

Basketball Starting For Jr. Varsity

Bruce Williams, 160, Flanker; Frank Ellison, 173, Corner Back; David Hobbie, 180, Middle Guard; James Whitaker, 163, Safety; Bobby Jackson, 168, Quarterback; Patterson, 152, Defensive End; Hasten Keane, 182, Middle Guard; Curtis Edwards, 168, Fullback and Bernard Elick, Defensive End.

Yearbook Begun
On Tuesday, September 26, Charles Jenkins, a representative from the American Yearbook Company, visited the school.

Mr. Jenkins collaborated with the Yearbook Editor, Charles Lowe, Co-editor, Vivian Berry, and Sponsor, Mrs. F. S. Peelle, about the importance of a yearbook and the old and new techniques of layout.

The yearbook editor and co-editor estimated the number of pages which the yearbook will have and Mr. Jenkins gave an approximate price.

Basketball Starting For Jr. Varsity

Monday, Oct. 2, the Jr. Varsity Basketball team began shaping up for the season.

All Jr. High boys interested in joining the team may report to the gym at 4:00 P. M. or see Coach Francis Davis. The following players were left out of our football line-up last week:

Bruce Williams, 160, Flanker; Frank Ellison, 173, Corner Back; David Hobbie, 180, Middle Guard; James Whitaker, 163, Safety; Bobby Jackson, 168, Quarterback; Patterson, 152, Defensive End; Hasten Keane, 182, Middle Guard; Curtis Edwards, 168, Fullback and Bernard Elick, Defensive End.

Yearbook Begun
On Tuesday, September 26, Charles Jenkins, a representative from the American Yearbook Company, visited the school.

Mr. Jenkins collaborated with the Yearbook Editor, Charles Lowe, Co-editor, Vivian Berry, and Sponsor, Mrs. F. S. Peelle, about the importance of a yearbook and the old and new techniques of layout.

The yearbook editor and co-editor estimated the number of pages which the yearbook will have and Mr. Jenkins gave an approximate price.

To Meet Roosevelt
Tomorrow at 8:15, the L. S. H. Bobcats will play the Roosevelt Maroon Devils on the Lake Shore Athletic Field.

Standing are:
Lake Shore 1 1 1
Roosevelt 0 1 1
The Devils defeated the Bobcats at their meeting last year.
